that. I told him I would talk this over with the appropriate people here and call him back on Monday.

25X1 3. [ ] Called Captain Ed Bauser, Executive Director, Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, in response to his call yesterday and told him that, since the Marchetti/Marks manuscript contained sensitive Agency operational material, we were making available to people outside the Agency only those portions which pertain to their responsibilities. I said that in keeping with this, I had contacted Chairman Price directly and told him we were more than willing to show him the entire manuscript in his capacity as a member of the CIA Subcommittee, but we could provide the Joint Committee with only those portions pertaining to atomic energy matters. I added that Price felt this was a reasonable approach, and, therefore, we were trying to identify those items in the manuscript pertaining to atomic energy matters and would try to get them to him (Bauser) this afternoon if possible. Bauser was somewhat irritated that he could not have access to the entire manuscript since he thought some persons outside had had access to it but he did not pursue the matter further.
